

Welcome to the 2010-2011 School Year!

We hope you are having a wonderful summer vacation! We are looking forward to meeting each of our new second graders and welcoming back our incoming third graders. It's going to be a great year filled with fun activities, and a few very cool reading & math challenges! Please take a look at your grade level supply list (different lists for different grades) so you will be prepared when school begins. Have a safe summer and remember you need to be reading every day and practicing your math facts even during the summer.

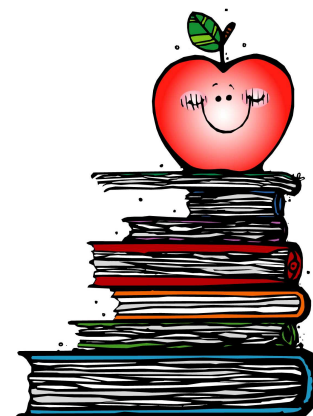

To welcome our new second graders, we have written a bit of information about ourselves so that you'll know something about us before you come back to school.

Hi, I'm Mrs. Torre and I'll be your Math, Science, and Social Studies teacher. Many of you may know me already; I have been at JFK Medical Center Charter School for the past 8 years. I have taught both 2nd and 3rd grade, and ESE. I am really looking forward to the science experiments and social studies projects we will be doing this upcoming year! I have been married for almost 6 years to our very own Maintenance Man, Mr. Andy, we have a very active little boy named Noah, and by the time you get this a brand new baby! Have a great summer! See you next year.

Hello, I'm Mrs. Patrick and I'll be your Reading and Writing teacher. I'm very excited to meet each of you and just know we're going to have a great time learning together. This will be my fifth year teaching at JFK Medical Center Charter School. I have two sons; Shannon is 14 and in 9th grade, and Riley is 10 and will be a 4th grader this year at JFK also. My husband Michael works for Palm Beach County and we will celebrate our 19th wedding anniversary this summer. In our "free time" we can usually be found at a local baseball, football, or basketball park watching the boy's games. Have a wonderful summer and I look forward to meeting each of you when we return in the fall.
